Waiver of Premiums for Total Disability (Continued Protection)

Offering continued coverage when you need it most

If you become Totally Disabled, you may qualify to continue certain insurance. You may also be eligible for waiver of your supplemental and dependent term life insurance premium until you reach age 65, die, or recover from your disability, whichever is sooner.

Total Disability or Totally Disabled means you are unable to do your job and any other job for which you are fit by education, training or experience due to injury or sickness. The Total Disability must begin before age 60, and your waiver will begin after you have satisfied a 9-month waiting period of continuous disability. The waiver of premium will end when you turn age 65/ when you reach your normal social security retirement age, die, or recover. Please note that this benefit is only available after you have participated in the supplemental/optional term life plan for 12 months and it is not available on dependent coverage. This 12 month requirement applies to new participants in the plan.

If you return to work after completing part or all of the 9-month waiting period and later cease active work due to the same or a related Total Disability while your coverage is being continued, you will be given credit for the prior partial or total completion of the waiting period and it will be considered a continuation of the original Total Disability. This means that if you completed the waiting period of continuous disability in the original period of disability, you will not need to complete another one.

- You must notify MetLife of the later period of cessation of active work within 12 months of when that period began.
- The amount of insurance being continued will be the same as during the original period of disability, subject to any reductions in coverage amount due to age.
